Mr. Rooter® Plumbing Announces Water-Wise™ Sweepstakes Winners

Pat McKelley's name was drawn from 64,736 entries to win the Mr. Rooter Water-Wise™ Sweepstakes. She will receive a free tankless water heater for her home in Wooster, Ohio.

"We are thrilled to see this kind of response and feedback from consumers," said Fawn Barlow, marketing manager for Mr. Rooter Corporation. "We really exceeded our goal of educating consumers on household products that not only conserve water, but can also save them money."

In addition to providing endless hot water, Noritz's tankless water heater is one of the plumbing industry's greenest products. It offers environmentally-friendly benefits such as lower emissions, reduced electrical consumption and easier recyclability of materials.

Winners of the water filtration and treatment systems from 3M Purification, Inc. are:

- Ralph Batten from Saint Marys, Ga., and Michael Doty from Escondido, Calif., who will receive Full Flow Drinking Water Systems.
- David Mika from Glencoe, Ala., and Danny Koch-Thomas from Buffalo, N.Y., who are recipients of Advanced Whole House Filtration Systems. This product filters sediment and reduces chlorine taste.
- Jason Carroll from Dubuque, Iowa, who won a Scale Inhibition Treatment System that helps extend the life of plumbing fixtures and appliances that use hot water.

"The Mr. Rooter Water-Wise Sweepstakes gave us the opportunity to reward those wanting to learn more about water," said Mary Kennedy Thompson, president of Mr. Rooter Corporation. "Being in the plumbing industry, we know how important is to conserve water as well as make sure you're drinking and using clean water."

Rounding out the sweepstakes is a one-year supply of BioChoiceES® which goes to Diane Wortman from Charlotte, N.C. Exclusive to Mr. Rooter Plumbing, BioChoiceES is a chemical-free drain maintenance product that proudly displays the Environmental Protection Agency's Design for the Environment logo.
